

On 3.22.10, Let's Talk About Florida's H1N1 Medical Response

Join State Surgeon General Ana Viamonte Ros and other healthcare professionals and leaders for a forum on Florida's planning and medical response to the 2009-10 H1N1 influenza outbreak.

The 60-minute Florida H1N1 Forum will include a moderated panel of experts who will share their initial expectations, what actually happened during the course of the event, and lessons learned for future pandemic planning. The discussion will be followed by an audience question and answer period.

To participate, register at MyFluSafety.com/forum.htm.

CEUs pending for nursing and allied health.
